Over My Head
Led by Kris Hansen

Over my head I hear music in the air. (3x)
There must be a God somewhere.

Over my head I hear singing in the air. (3x)
There must be a God somewhere.

Over my head I see trouble in the air. (3x)
There must be a God somewhere.

Over my head I see Jesus in the air. (3x)
There must be a God somewhere.

PRAYER OF CONFESSION

Marti Pechnyo

Oh God,
We are sophisticated and
bursting with certainty.
We insist.
We clarify.
We elucidate.
Forgive our nauseating expertise.
Make us childlike,
able to wonder at soap bubbles,
and skipping stones,
and You.
Amen.

SCRIPTURE

Marti Pechnyo

Psalm 19: 1-4

The heavens are telling the glory of God;
and the firmament proclaims his handiwork.

Day to day pours forth speech,
and night to night declares knowledge.

There is no speech, nor are there words;
their voice is not heard;

yet their voice goes out through all the earth,
and their words to the end of the world.

* STATEMENT OF FAITH

We believe in God who has created and is creating, who has come to us in Jesus Christ to reconcile and make us new,
who works in us and others by the Holy Spirit.

We trust God. God calls us to be the Church,
to celebrate God's presence,
to love and serve others,
to care for creation,
to seek justice and to resist evil,
to proclaim Jesus, crucified and risen, our judge and our hope.

In life and death, in life beyond death, God is with us.

We are not alone. Thanks be to God!

TODAY'S MUSIC

Our prelude, Now Behold the Lamb, was written in 1993 and features both text and music by Kirk Franklin (b. 1970). He has also brought a new and contemporary edge to gospel music by adding the energy of hip-hop.

Over My Head is another text and melody from the great wealth of spirituals. Its present version was arranged in 1981 by Verolga Nix (1933-2014), a world class pianist and graduate of Oberlin Conservatory, and J. Jefferson Cleveland (1937-1986), one of the most important scholars of African American spirituals. Cleveland and Nix collaborated on a seminal work about African American music, Songs of Zion. It is actually a shortened version, including only the very catchy refrain of a longer song.

The composer of Precious Lord, Thomas A. Dorsey (1899-1993), began his career as a blues pianist and songwriter. Later, he became a church choir director here in Chicago and was a co-founder of the National Convention of Gospel Choirs and Choruses. Widely known as the "father of the gospel song," he played an important role in the development of African American gospel music. This is his best-known song and was composed following the tragic double death of his first wife, Nettie, and their newborn son. It was a great comfort to Mr. Dorsey in his grief, as well as countless others who have sung it. He became Director of Music at Pilgrim Baptist Church.

I Love to Tell the Story has multiple authors. The familiar refrain was written in 1866 by Kate Hankey (1834-1911) and the verses were penned and the music composed in 1869 by William G. Fisher (1835-1912). Although Hankey was born into privilege in London, she spent her life working with the poor and teaching Bible classes. Fisher was an American who had a lifelong interest in music. Although he was a businessman, he composed more than 200 "spiritual songs," and conducted mass choirs at Dwight L. Moody revivals. The tune name, HANKEY, takes its name from Ms. Hankey.

Sonata in D Major, K. 443 is one of Domenico Scarlatti's best known and often performed works. He composed more than 550 works for keyboard. John Eliot Gardiner refers to Scarlatti (1685-1757) as one of the "trio" of the "class of 1685," which includes Bach (1685-1750) and Handel (1685-1759). Scarlatti, like Bach, came from famous musical parentage. His father, Alessandro Scarlatti (1660-1725), was one of the most prominent Baroque composers in Italy. Whereas Domenico was known primarily for his keyboard works, his father was a renowned composer of opera and chamber music.

The author of the text for O How Glorious, Full of Wonder was Curtis Beach (1914-1993). He was Harvard educated and came from a long line of ministers. He wrote this text in 1958 while serving a church in Pasadena, CA. The tune, IN BABILONE, is a traditional Dutch melody first published in 1710. It was adapted as a hymn by Julius Röntgen (1855-1932), a Dutch Romantic composer and pianist. Brahms chose him to debut his Piano Concerto No. 1.

Wie schön leuchtet der Morgenstern is known to us in English as an Epiphany hymn, O Morning Star, How Clear and Bright, that can be found in our Black Hymnal No. 158. The chorale melody was composed in 1598 by Philipp Nicolai (1556-1608), who was a Lutheran pastor, poet and composer. This chorale melody was so beloved that it was set by many composers, including Bach (1685-1750). Johann Pachelbel (1653-1706) is not well known outside music circles, but his compositions, especially for organ and choir, provided a deep foundation for German composers in the following generation, including Bach and his contemporaries.

CREATION CORNER - provided by Green Team Who Knew Toilet Tissue Could Make Such a Difference?

Who knew you could make a huge difference by buying your toilet paper from us.whogivesacrap.org? Besides the website being humorous, you’ll discover that 50% of profits from their eco-friendly products help build toilets and improve sanitation in the developing world. Roughly 40% of the global population doesn’t have access to a toilet, which means that approximately 300,000 children under 5 years old die every year from diarrheal diseases caused by poor water and sanitation. That’s almost 800 children every day, or one child every two minutes. You may also buy tissues and paper towels at this site.

ABOUT ST. PAULS
Making a Joyful Sound in the City!

Saint Pauls UCC has a vibrant history in the city of Chicago. Founded in 1843, we are one of the city's oldest churches. In 1989, we became one of America's first congregations to declare ourselves "Open and Affirming" of LGBTQ people.

From founding Chicago's largest provider of social services to at-risk children to starting a home for the elderly, from housing protestors at the 1968 Democratic Convention to hosting Lincoln Park's first MLK day march against violence on Chicago's streets, we are proud to make a joyful sound in the city.

Most important, over the past 178 years we are glad to have introduced thousands of children and adults to the amazing, inclusive, life changing, uplifting love of God. We do so in worship that is traditional, but far from conventional.
